

Come Follow Me- for Primary “Show the children the Bible, the Book of Mormon, the Doctrine and Covenants, and the Pearl of Great Price. Help the children make a list on the board of what makes each book of scripture different and what makes them similar. If they need help, share with them the descriptions of these books in Guide to the Scriptures. Ask the children how we can know that the scriptures are true. What do we learn from Doctrine and Covenants 67:4, 9 about the revelations the Lord gave to Joseph Smith?”

Standard Works Sorting

You don't need to print this page if you have all the books available. You can just lay the books on the ground and sort under them in rows.

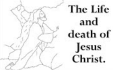

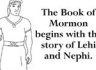

Put the stripes of paper from the other page, in a bag or bowl and have the children pull them out. If they aren't sure which book they go under, have them read the opening page or Guide to the scriptures. You can also look at the grid I provided, to see if you got it right.

THE PEARL OF GREAT PRICE

THE OLD TESTAMENT

THE NEW TESTAMENT	THE OLD TESTAMENT	THE PEARL OF GREAT PRICE	THE DOCTRINE AND COVENANTS	THE BOOK OF MORMON Another Testament of Jesus Christ
 The life and death of Jesus Christ.	 This book has many stories, but it begins with the creation of the world and Adam and Eve.	 Begins with the book of Moses.	 Most of the revelations in this book were received through Joseph Smith.	 The Book of Mormon begins with the story of Lehi and Nephi.
A collection of inspired writings (originally in Greek) about the life and ministry of Jesus Christ, the Apostles, and other followers of Jesus Christ.	Writings of ancient prophets who acted under the influence of the Holy Spirit and who over many centuries testified of Christ and His future ministry.	The kingdom of God on earth is likened to a “pearl of great price” (Matt. 13:45–46).	This book is unique, because it is not a translation of ancient documents; the Lord gave these revelations to His chosen prophets in this modern day in order to restore His kingdom.	It is an abridgment by an ancient prophet named Mormon of the records of ancient inhabitants of the Americas. It was written to testify that Jesus is the Christ.
...the books of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John—are accounts of the life of Christ.	The first five books of the Old Testament were written by Moses. They are Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy. Genesis refers to the origin of the earth, mankind, languages, races, and the beginning of the house of Israel.	The first edition of the Pearl of Great Price was published in 1851 and contained some material that is now in the Doctrine and Covenants.	In the revelations one hears the tender but firm voice of the Lord Jesus Christ (D&C 18:35–36).	I hold the testimony that the Book of Mormon was the most correct of any book on earth, and the key-stone of our religion, and a man would gain nearer to God by abiding in its precepts, than by any other book” (see the introduction at the front of the Book of Mormon).
The other letters were written by other Apostles and give additional counsel to the early Saints. The book of Revelation, which was written by the Apostle John, contains many prophecies pertaining to the last days.	The prophets warned Israel of her sin and testified of the blessings that come from obedience. They prophesied of the coming of Christ, who would atone for the sins of those who repent, receive the ordinances, and live the gospel.	This book contains the Articles of Faith.	The revelations in it initiate the work of preparing the way for the Lord’s Second Coming, in fulfillment of all the words spoken by the prophets since the world began.	Mormon, the last of the Nephites, prophet-historian, edited up the detailed records of these people and had them in about A.D. 421. In 1823, the resurrected Son of God visited Joseph Smith and later delivered to him these ancient and sacred records to be translated and brought forth to the world as another testament of Jesus Christ.
